

Call for Proposals

This Section invites proposals providing theoretical analysis and diverse ethical methodologies in response to the following themes:

- Policies and politics and its impact on gender and sexuality
- The ethics of freedom and revisiting the Emancipation Proclamation one hundred and fifty years later
- Michelle Alexander's book The New Jim Crow: Mass Incarceration in the Age of Colorblindnes (New Press, 2012)
- The Wire and reading different texts differently
- Environmental ethics
- For a cosponsored session with the Pentecostal–Charismatic Movements Group , Religion and Migration Group , and Religious Conversions Group , exploring practices, ethics, and effects of religious conversion, especially those relating to immigration, migration, and/or Pentecostalism

Mission

This is an established Section that has served scholars concerned in the field, others interested in the intersection of ethics, and other disciplines within the academy over an extended period of years. We believe it is inconceivable for any comprehensive study of religion to be undertaken without serious attention to the ethical teachings that are an integral part of every known religion. This Section seeks to serve the AAR by providing a forum for the ethical interests and issues all religious traditions address. We provide the opportunity for intellectual and academic exchange through the discipline of ethics. We encourage younger scholars and work to have a diversity of perspectives and methodologies represented from various religious traditions.

Anonymity of Review Process

Proposer names are visible to Chairs but anonymous to Steering Committee members.

Questions?

Victor Anderson
Vanderbilt University

This e-mail address is being protected from spambots. You need JavaScript enabled to view it

Stacey M. Floyd-Thomas
Vanderbilt University

This e-mail address is being protected from spambots. You need JavaScript enabled to view it

Method of Submission

A large, horizontal, orange button with rounded corners and a slight gradient. The text "Submit to PAPERS" is centered on the button in a white, sans-serif font.

Submit to PAPERS