Mission

This Group has consistently provided programmatic space for a wide variety of feminist theory/theories — including feminist theology, queer theory, continental feminist theory, feminist political theory, etc. — as these intersect with a broad understanding of “religious reflection” — including institutional religious settings, or intersections of religion and culture, religion and aesthetics, religion and the body, etc.

Anonymity of Review Process

Proposals are anonymous to Chairs and steering committee members until after final acceptance/rejection.
