

The deadline to register for hotels is October 31.

After a long day of attending sessions at the Annual Meeting, it is good to have a haven to relax and recharge for the next day. AAR has negotiated special conference rates at twenty-seven luxurious and convenient hotels for the convenience of meeting attendees. Hotel room rates do not include the average of 16 percent hotel room tax. Please note that the single/double/triple/quadruple room designation denotes the number of room occupants, not the number of beds. A triple room means three people are sharing two double beds, unless a rollaway bed is requested at an extra charge.

Admiral Fell Inn

Fell's Point is where the city's folklore — and more than a few ghost stories — thrive. And in the heart of it all is the Admiral Fell Inn, a quaint, European-style hotel listed on the register of Historic Hotels of America. The legendary hotel consists of seven different buildings dating back to the 1770s, which have previously served as a ship chandlery, a theater, and a boarding house for sailors. Enjoy eighteenth century furnishings, hardwood floors, Persian rugs, plush beds, and other charming details alongside the amenities of a full service hotel. Guests of Admiral Fell Inn receive access to the MAC Wellness Center in Harbor East. Adela is your onsite restaurant, serving tapas, paellas, and sangrias starting at 5:00 PM. This hotel also has the Tavern, which is open Wednesday–Saturday evenings. In addition to nighttime options, wake up to complimentary fresh muffins, coffee, and tea. Other amenities include complimentary wi-fi throughout the hotel, bottled water, an in-room coffee maker, a shuttle to the heart of the Inner Harbor, and a ghost tour through the seven buildings that make up the Admiral Fell Inn. This is a pet-friendly, smoke-free property.
