Baltimore's Antique Row

831 North Howard Street

410-462-1192

Antique Row is the oldest antique district in the United States, dating from the 1840s. It continues as the premiere antique shopping district in Baltimore, featuring a wide variety of shops, which attract both the connoisseur and the casual collector from far and wide. Antique Row is the place to shop for items ranging from fine art and furniture, antique books, silver, toys, and gifts. From Medieval and Renaissance through Art Nouveau and Art Deco, Antique Row has something for all tastes and pocketbooks. If you plan to visit a particular shop, please call ahead to verify that they will be open at the time of your visit.

We have a large selection of new and used books. We have over 40,000 books in storage, in addition to everything that is on our shelves. All books in storage are searchable through our website. We also have computers at the store to search this same inventory. The books that are on our shelves are NOT inventoried, so they are NOT searchable through this website. Some books that are online are also in the store, but many of them are not, so if you are looking for something in particular, c'mon in and we'll help you find it!
