

Call for Proposals

The theme for this year's session is Christian–Muslim Relations — interreligious interchange and confluence in the Mediterranean milieu. We welcome paper or panel proposals regarding relations between Christians, Muslims, and those of other faith groups in the Mediterranean region broadly in all time periods, from a variety of methodological perspectives. Topics may include pilgrimage, visual and material culture, artistic expression, popular culture, intellectual exchanges, cooperation, conflict, and so forth. We furthermore invite paper or panel proposals on Christianities in Israel and Palestine, or in diaspora from that region. Proposals relating to all time periods, themes, and methodological perspectives are welcome.

Mission

This Consultation is devoted to the study of developments within Coptic, Armenian, Chaldean/Assyrian, Syrian, Maronite, and other relevant communities living inside the Middle East or in lands of immigration. We cover themes from the early Christian period to the present, encompassing various approaches and subjects. Our aim is to establish an interdisciplinary platform for dialogue among differing approaches and projects and to provide opportunities for scholars to discuss their work in relation to the overall field of the study of religion.

Anonymity of Review Process

Proposals are anonymous to Chairs and Steering Committee Members during review, but visible to Chairs prior to final acceptance or rejection.

Questions?

Mark Swanson
Lutheran School of Theology, Chicago

This e-mail address is being protected from spambots. You need JavaScript enabled to view it

Nelly Van Doorn-Harder
Wake Forest University

This e-mail address is being protected from spambots. You need JavaScript enabled to view it

Method of Submission

Submit to OP3

This e-mail address is being protected from spambots. You need JavaScript enabled to view it